- DAY FIVE: My Personal Furnace

This section will allow you to take the truths you have learned and apply them to your own personal furnace(s). As you honestly work through these questions—with your Father—you will find true, lasting joy in your furnace.

* Group Discussion Questions are located at the back of the book. They are meant to stimulate meaningful discussion. It is my hope that the focus of discussion groups would be on sharing, praying for, and ministering to each other regarding current furnace experiences.
